Men To Have Conferences With Officers

Will Hold Individual And General Interviews Nov. 2 And 3

TO DISCUSS TOPIC OF ENLISTMENTS

Dr. Ennis B. Womack, dean of men, has announced that representatives of the army, navy, marine corps, and coast guard will be in Middlebury on November 2 and 3 to speak to Middlebury men on the subject of enlisting.

Major Horton Edmonds of the army, in charge of the Joint Procurement board, has made arrangements with Dean Womack for a general meeting of all men students on the evening of November 2, at which time each representative will speak for fifteen minutes on his particular phase of military service.

Conferences Nov. 3

Tuesday, November 3, five conference rooms will be set aside so that students may have individual interviews at any time during the day.

Provision has been made for those students who may possibly receive inducton orders before the first of December to enlist at the Rutland recruiting station.

In answer to the question arising in students' minds as to the advantage of enlisting if, as Secretary of War Stimson has said, all men of twenty years or over will be ordered into the service sometime before the end of this semester, Major Edmonds has stated that there is a much better chance of selecting the branch of service desired, and of qualifying for officer training if a man enlists.

One member of the Joint Procurement board under Major Edmonds has stated that he feels confident that men following technical courses will be allowed to remain in college.

Release Forms

Attention of the students is brought to the fact that, in order to enlist in a branch of the army, release slips must be obtained from the draft board. These releases are good for only one week, and a student signing an application for such a release automatically places himself in class 1A and is subject to call any time after his week's release is up.

Cast Rehearses Play, Production Committees Selected For "R.U.R."

Rehearsals continue as scheduled, and the stage set goes through a test run, as "R.U.R.," first major performance to be given at the Playhouse November 9 and 10, swings into production.

The following committee chairmen have been chosen to assist with the play: Costumes, Fiammetta C. Donati, '44; Publicity and Programs, Ruth C. Childs, '44; Lights, Richard W. Brock, '44; Sound Effects, Benjamin F. Bradley, '45; Scene Painting, Lanice L. Dana, '44. Secretary for the production will be Margaret J. Dunn, '45. Elizabeth Hanzsche, '43 will act as prompter. The assistant to the director will be Barbara H. Skinner '43.

GIRLS PLAY HOST TO MEN AT DANCE

Members of Mortar Board are sponsoring a dance to be held this Saturday, October 17 at 7:30 p. m. in McCullough gymnasium.

Instead of men inviting the women, the women's side of the campus is taking this chance to help the men and their pocketbooks.

The AMB dance (All Men Broke) will cost 60 cents a couple with the girls paying for the tickets. The men still may have the privilege of escorting their dates to the dance.

This week the sponsors of the dance urge that there be no stags.

Men May Aid By Harvesting Farm Produce

Responding to Dr. Reginald L. Cook's suggestion that Middlebury College mobilize man-power "to help tide the farmers over their periods of seasonal stress," the Men's Student Assembly held a special meeting last Sunday evening to form plans for coping with the problem of farm labor shortage.

A committee to see Mr. Robert O. Randall, head of the farm bureau, was formed. The members are Richard S. Kinsey '44, George F. Wiemann '44 and C. Royce Wilcox '44. By working with Mr. Randall, the committee hopes to make definite plans for organizing student participation in farm labor. One plan is to send students out to work on farms for a day or half a day at a time.

As an important climax to the meeting, the motion was made and passed that there should be a joint assembly with the women to concentrate on the problem of what the college can do to promote the war effort. If the Women's Student Union accepts this proposition, it will be the first time in the history of Middlebury College that such an assembly is formed.

Class Of '46 Hears Rules For Rushing

Receptions will be held in Forest recreation room and Hepburn living room on October 16 from 4:15-5:45 for all freshmen women and transfers.

All women whose names begin with A through L will go to the meeting in one dormitory and the other women whose names begin with M through Z will attend the cider at the other dormitory. Georgia R. Childs '43 will be in charge of the affair.

At this informal gathering the president of Panhellenic, Lois E. Groben '43 will explain the rushing rules to all the incoming students this year and answer any questions they might wish to ask.

Open houses will also be held in fraternity rooms October 19, 20, 21 from 4:15-5:45. The list of new students will be divided equally so different groups will spend a definite length of time at each fraternity.

Members of the Panhellenic Council will be present in Hepburn living room on October 21 at 7:00 p. m. to answer any questions the rushees may have.

Prof. Richard L. Brown has been assigned to match the choices of the rushees with the choices which the sorority rushing chairmen submit to him.

Panhellenic is sponsoring a dance in McCullough gymnasium on October 24 with Ruth DeLong '43 in charge.

R. Warbasse Fills Position In Music Staff

Mr. Richard Warbasse will be the new music instructor to fill the vacancy left by Capt. Alan Carter when he went into the army last week.

Mr. Warbasse will assume his new duties as instructor of advanced music classes, private lessons, orchestra and band on October 15 and will remain here for the rest of the college year.

He has lived in East Middlebury, Vermont for three years, working as a circuit instructor in violin among the people of Montpelier, Bellows Falls, Barre and other towns in the vicinity. During this time he has also been the concert master of the Vermont Symphony orchestra, playing first chair violin.

Three years of study in Salzburg, Austria at the orchestral academy, in addition to three years training at Amherst college and study in the David Banner school in New York city, have given Mr. Warbasse a wide background in music.

P. Wright '40 Loses Life In Plane Crash

Ensign Philip C. Wright '40 of the U. S. naval reserve corps was killed Wednesday in an airplane accident at Pasco, Washington.

Ensign Wright married Miss Eleanor M. Thomas, formerly of the class of 1944, on September 14 and she had gone with him to Pasco where he was stationed as a member of the naval reserve corps.

The couple had bought a house in Pasco, and were about ready to set up housekeeping. Their wedding presents, still at the home of Mrs. Wright's parents in Burlington, were all packed and ready to be sent to Pasco when word was received of Ensign Wright's death.

Ensign Wright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Wright of Washington D. C. He was graduated from Middlebury in 1940. He is remembered here especially for his participation in the college choir and other activities; he was a member of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity. When he left Middlebury, he went to the Westminister Choir School in Princeton, N. J.

He enlisted in the naval reserve corps in July 1941; he was awarded his wings in July of this year.

FORUM WOMEN LEND SERVICES IN SOCIAL WORK

Thursday afternoon in the Community house, the social service committee of Women's Forum discussed the various lessons planned for local children.

The year's activities will open with a story hour to be held on October 26. In addition to storytelling, there will be lessons in dancing, piano, handicrafts, and other such instruction. These lessons are given by members of Forum who donate their time to work with Miss Olive Dean at the house.

The Forum plans to start work with the local surgical dressings unit as soon as the town gets the group organized which will probably be at the end of this month. It has also been asked to work with the townspeople on embarcation kits for the soldiers.

Several new books on world politics and current issues have been received recently from the Carnegie Endowment Fund. These books are for the Forum library in Forest recreation room.

The second Thrift Shop sale was held Saturday afternoon as scheduled.

Men to Designate Fraternity Choice

Must Submit Preferential Cards By 5 P. M. Tomorrow

All freshmen who wish to join a fraternity this year must hand in cards bearing their names together with the names of one of three fraternities in preferential order between 1:00 and 5:00 p. m. tomorrow at Prof. Robert W. Rafuse's office 306 Monroe.

The Interfraternity council emphasizes that freshmen who do not turn in cards will not be allowed to join any fraternity until next year.

Tomorrow night by ten o'clock Professor Rafuse, the advisor of the Interfraternity council, will have checked the fraternities' lists of men they want against the freshmen's preferential cards and will authorize the fraternities to send invitations to freshmen in accordance with his findings in checking the lists, up to the limit of eleven men per fraternity.

Friday morning the invitations will be placed in the mail boxes at the book-store.

Freshmen are to sign and return their invitations after chapel. Any freshman who fails to sign the invitation of a fraternity after having indicated a desire to join that fraternity on his preferential card will be denied permission to join any fraternity until September of next year.

The signed invitations are to be returned to the Interfraternity council by the fraternities by the Wednesday of the following week.

Middlebury Debaters Defeat Rensselaer 2-1 In Year's First Match

Debating against Rensselaer Polytechnic institute last Friday night in Munroe auditorium, the Middlebury team won by a decision of 2-1.

The case for the affirmative of the proposition, "Resolved: that the Allied nations should take complete economic control of the enemy powers at the close of the war," was argued by John E. Unterecker '44 and Charles J. Parker '46.

While the complete fall schedule is not yet organized, plans are made for: a debate at Dartmouth, October 26, when Middlebury will uphold the affirmative of the question of granting immediate freedom to India; a debate at M.I.T. on the affirmative of a plan for government control of patents to guard against international cartels, to be held October 27 or 29; and a debate at Harvard October 28.

Major Heinrichs Tells Students War Effort Needs Full Support

Major Waldo H. Heinrichs, former professor of Contemporary Civilization, stated that there is no reconciliation between the two ways of life during total war, when he addressed the student body Monday during chapel.

"We are entering a sombre and intense period of war," quoted Major Heinrichs from the Sunday Vespers address by Dr. John S. Millis. It is not going well for us, he said, and there can be no negotiated peace. We must make sure that war in the future can be stopped and the United States must contribute its full share.

Upbraiding the "criminals who brought this war on," Major Heinrichs stressed the absolute necessity of both economic and political freedom and opportunity He stated that the Negro quarters in the South have apalling conditions.

Militarism will not end with the war, the speaker promised, for there will be a long period of military training and policing for us after the war.

Total war to us individually means a loss of identity. People in service become numbers, although the Army has the most efficient classification yet developed and offers great opportunity in training and service.

Liberal arts colleges are only of direct aid in this war in the practical training they give in certain fields. Major Heinrichs emphasized the irretrievability of time, which requires complete concentration on the task ahead. Many parents, he said, who have spent thousands of dollars for the education of their children have thrown their money away. He compared them to Moses who spoke to Aaron, "I have thrown in my gold and there came out this calf."

The sacrifices of men who have given their lives cannot be reconciliated with the carelessness and slackness of our civilian life. Speaking of the Middlebury men who have died in military service, he reminded the student body that they had no guarantee that they would come back safely.

In doing our share here we must do it the best we are able, stated Major Heinrichs, who expressed his faith in our best efforts in later service.

Major Heinrichs is on leave from his army post in Norfolk following a recent operation.

Jose Iturbi Postpones October Piano Recital

Violinist Joseph Szigetti To Replace Him In Series

PIANIST ITURBI IS AT M.G.M. STUDIO

Jose Iturbi, pianist, scheduled to play at Middlebury on October 21, will not be able to fulfill his engagement with the college Concert-Lecture series.

Mr. Iturbi has been held up in Hollywood where he is making a film for MGM, and has had to cancel all engagements in the East until the first of next year. He has, however, given April 7 as the tentative date of his appearance here next spring.

Joseph Szigetti

Joseph Szigetti, violinist, will replace Mr. Iturbi on October 21. Mr. Szigetti has made many records, which appear in countries throughout the world, and received a great deal of publicity last year when he played a violin-clarinet concerto with Benny Goodman in Carnegie Hall.

H. Ward Bedford, professor of music, classes Szigetti as the "poet type" of artist, while Alan Carter, associate professor of music, has said he expects Szigetti to one day assume the place Jascha Heiffitz now holds in the musical world.

In Japan, more of Szigetti's recordings are sold than the recordings of all the other internationally known violinists together.

The second attraction on the Concert-Lecture series will be Col. Edward H. Cooper D.S.C., who will speak and show films on his travels in Europe. He is scheduled to arrive on November 17.

Jay Allen

Jay Allen, internationally known foreign correspondent, will speak at Middlebury on December 1. Mr. Allen, author of "My Trouble With Hitler," and war correspondent of the North American newspaper alliance in Africa, Spain, and France, was scheduled to speak in Middlebury last year but was unable to keep his engagement, due to his sudden imprisonment by the Nazis. He will appear December 1.

The fourth attraction on the Concert-Lecture series will be the presentation of "The Marriage of Figaro." The opera wll be given in English by a group of young singers who were last year acclaimed by the Westminister School of music.

Max Lerner

Max Lerner, author, editor, and teacher, will speak on February 3. Professor Lerner is author of the book, "It is Later Than You Think," and was for many years editor of "The Nation." He has written a book this year entitled, "Ideas are Weapons."

Jose Iturbi will close the Concert-Lecture series on April 7 with a piano recital. He has not yet chosen his program.

These musicians and speakers have been chosen as a result of work by the Student Lecture committee and the Concert-Lecture committee. Both of these committees took polls last year to determine which artists were most desired by the student body.

WOMEN MEET IN FIRST ASSEMBLY TUESDAY NIGHT

The first meeting of the new Women's Assembly was opened on October 13, at 7:30 p. m. by Virginia I. Wynn '43, president.

At this meeting a new amendment was proposed and carried by the Assembly. This amendment will be added to Section 2 Article 2 of the Women's constitution. It will be listed under the duties of floor representative, and will read: "Alternate with other floor representatives in the dormitory in checking the sign out books every night, or in being responsible for designating this duty to some member of her floor." This amendment has not yet been passed by the women's college as a whole.

Monday night final elections were held by the women's dormitories for the house heads and representatives to the Judicial Council. The following women were elected:

Hepburn, first and second floors: Margaret C. Bullock '42, House Representative; Margaret F. Ferry '42, House Chairman. Hepburn, third and fourth floors: Barbara Slade '43, Judicial Representative; Mary Barclay '42, House Chairman. Hillside: Diana Terry '46, Judicial Chairman; Jean Lockhardt '46, House Chairman.

Homestead: Helen C. Perrins '44, House Chairman; Jean Chatfield '44, Judicial Representative. Jewett-Wilcox: Jessie Woodwell '45, House Representative; Evelyn G. Young '42, Judicial Representative. Hillcrest: Mary S. Tipping '45, House Chairman; Jane P. Cline '45, Judicial Representative. Forest East: Helen M. Bouck '42, House Chairman; Marjorie T. Bird '42, Judicial Representative. Forest West: Ruth C. Child '44, House Chairman; Jane A. Sterns '44, Judicial Representative. Battell: Jane M. Robertson '45, House Chairman; Margaret Hood '46, Judicial Representative. Pearsons: Mary E. Wisotzkey '45, House Chairman; Nancy A. Read, '44, Judician Representative.

ALUMNI RETURN FOR HOME GAME LAST WEEKEND

By Ruth A. Merrill '45

Despite no official plans for Homecoming this year there was plenty of excitement for all the alumni that returned.

Friday night Homecoming was touched off with a Big Pep Rally in the gym. Cheers were led and speeches were made by Prexy, football men and coaches. Students rallied around the big freshman bonfire and did a snake dance from the athletic field to the town.

Saturday afternoon alumni and students turned out for the game between Union and Middlebury at Porter Field in time for the kick-off at two o'clock. The new cheerleaders made their first appearance at the home game.

The squad of cheerleaders has added eight new members this year: C. Milton Pike '45, Thomas Asquith '46, Clement B. Lewis '46, Dorothy S. Laux '45, Nancy Clarke '46, Jean Crawford '46, E. Ann Curry '46, and Vava Stafford '46.

After the game everyone was invited to attend a football cider in Forest recreation room with refreshments of cider, doughnuts and apples.

Each of the eight fraternities on campus held tea dances in their respective houses from five o'clock until suppertime.

The climax of the day's events was the informal dance in McCullough gymnasium. Middlebury's Black Panthers furnished music for the dancers from seven thirty to eleven o'clock with Marjorie J. Jolivette '44 as vocalist.

HIKE HELD OCT 11 TO MOOSALAMOO

Cancelling the planned hike to Mt. Killington, the Mountain club led a hike to Mt. Moosalamoo, Sunday, Oct. 11, with trucks leaving Pearson's hall at nine o'clock.

Killington, the second highest peak in Vermont, was not scaled by special request of the administration, because of the epidemic and so that the participants would not have to miss the chapel address of Dr. John D. Millis, president of the University of Vermont.

Next week's hike is not definite yet.

VOL. XL OCTOBER 14, 1942 NO. 6

WAR WON'T WAIT

Middlebury is beginning to wake up, beginning to see the war as something in which it is immediately involved. Naturally this awakening has come first to the leading organzations on the campus. In this respect the Men's Assembly is outstanding. The awakening has yet to come to several other organizations and societies.

It is becoming increasingly apparant that total war will hit the college much sooner and harder than we dreamed a few weeks ago. The talk of after-election legislation is not idle chatter.

We dislike the political characteristics of the war but Middlebury cannot object too much—many fine ideas are not being put in effect here until after rushing.

One thing that is practically certain in this war is the second European front. Such a front cannot be opened without a huge army. The second front will have a very real significance to Middlebury. Many present undergraduates will participate.

Nor is talk of a nine million man army to be discounted. It is inseparable from the second front. Already the shortage of manpower is being felt. It is making a difference at Middlebury. Helping farmers to keep farms producing is one task which is nearly as important as studies.

It is well to know these things. They threaten the existence of the men's college. This is especially true since the army is more interested in immediate quantity manpower than in future quality. It is quite possible that the army is planning a knockout blow next year. In that case present manpower is that which will count.

Another reason that the college outlook is black is that apparently the army intends to train all men in their own camps. It is quite certain that the army will not send men to train students at the colleges. Rather, men will travel from colleges to the army.

The outook for the men's college is black. Still it is better to see what lies ahead than to look aside and be hit by the future when it becomes reality.

IT'S UP TO THE FRESHMEN

Tomorrow the men's college will discover the results of its first attempt using the preferential rushing system. The system is by no means perfect but at least has saved much needed time.

Observance of the rule of the Interfraternity council has been the best we have ever seen, but rules have been broken.

The freshmen should know who has been obeying the rules. Some houses leaned over backwards to make the new system work. Some have not. The freshmen will decide whether or not the houses which cooperated will be penalized for the adherance to the rules.

NOTICES

A representative from the naval research laboratory in Washington will visit the campus Thurs- Oct. 22 to interview senior men and women and graduate students interested in research or development in chemistry, physics, mathematics, metallurgy and the engineering sciences. Men who are interested in work of this kind and would like to meet the representative should see Mr. Hoffmann in Old Chapel No. 24 by next Tuesday. Women should see Miss Wolcott in Forest Hall East. Those men who are pledged to War Service are also eligible.

The Boys club at the Community house is scheduled to begin November 1. This club is for the boys in town and is directed by a member of Middlebury College.

A man from college may volunteer to do this work by calling the Community house or by giving his name to Dean Ennis B. Womack.

The director may earn his room at the Community house doing his work or he may be paid by the N.Y.A. through Dean Womack's office.

The Boys' club meets on Tuesday and Friday evenings at the Community house. Last year the boys worked on model airplanes and woodcraft.

The Abernethy reading by Prof. Rose E. Martin will include selections from "The Sub-Treasury of American Humor." Professor Martin will read "Winnie the Pooh" by A. A. Milne, and stories by James Thurber.

Freshmen CAMPUS tryouts will meet Thursday, Oct. 15, in Munroe 104 at 3:00 p. m.

Notices or news which people wish to have printed in the CAMPUS should be handed in the Sunday before the CAMPUS is printed.

Sra. Chaumudes Will Talk To Spanish Club

There will be a meeting of the Spanish Club on Thursday evening, October 20th at 7:30 p. m. in Forest Recreation Room.

Senora Marta Chaumudes will address the members in a short talk concerning Chile. This is to be followed by three skits performed by various members and the joint singing of several Spanish songs.

Lists will be posted on Monroe bulletin board and all those wishing to attend the meeting should sign up there not later than 3:30 Monday afternoon.

YACHTING CLUB FOUNDER VISITS RECENT OUTING

Sailing at Lake Dunmore last Thursday and Friday, the Yacht club welcomed back for a visit to Middlebury Stewart Walker '42, founder of the club and master builder. Walker is now attending New York university medical school.

Five club members took part in the outings; during the Thursday sail the club boat capsized.

There will be a regular meeting of the Yacht club this week to discuss prospective members who have indicated their desire to join the club.

APPROVAL GIVEN CARNIVAL PLANS

Casino, Ball, To Be Cut; Vacancies Filled

Winter Carnival will be held the third week end in February as scheduled, by permission of college authorities.

Casino and Carnival Ball have been cancelled, however, and student opinion will determine what is to take the place of the Ball.

Since Abbie-Dora Ansel '44 didn't return to college this year, her place as head of women's sports has been delegated to Audrey J. Nunnemacher '45. Robert C. Clement '45 will fill the vacancy left by Anthony S. DeNigris '44, chairman of transportation.

The poster contest announced last spring is still in progress and is open to all students. Those who wish to compete for the prize of a ticket to the 1943 Winter Carnival should adhere to the following instructions. Draw a poster with not more than three colors, approximately sixteen inches by twenty-one inches, and submit it to Gertrude Nightengale '44 at the Homestead by November 1.

Adventurous Hunters Hold Turkey Hunt

By Peter S. Jennison '44

Newspaper correspondents in Ankara, Turkey, say that every Thursday, Field Marshal Goering's private plane lands and takes on several hundred pounds of choice caviar and other delicacies to grace the heavyweight's week end table.

Goering has nothing on two Middlebury College students.

Michael Kolligian, Jr., '44 and Richard S. McCrudden '45 wanted a Vermont Turkey Dinner. They wanted it so much, in fact, that they sped by bicycle to the distant metropolis of Brandon to purchase the 18-lb gamboling gobbler.

Columbus Day motorists, such as there were, had the delightful vision of two energetic cyclists heading northward from Brandon on safari, bearing with them one bagged turkey, its indignant head sticking out of a paper bag, expressing its disgust in no uncertain terms.

Monday night the captive bird remained ensconced in their room, raising general cain.

Tuesday, after receiving numerous telegrams from the SPCA and anti-vivisectionist societies, the two intrepid hunters killed and dressed their wild game.

Tonight, after driving off hoards of hungry gourmets, they will dine in state. Who said Middlebury students had no initiative? These daring hunters have proved to the world that the self-reliance of the pioneers is not dead. Their example is sure to be followed in the face of increasing shortages of beef and lamb. Vermont is known throughout the nation for the excellent quality of their birds, so. . . Turkey raisers, watch out, or you won't have any left for Thanksgiving.

It's common sense to be thrifty. If you save you are thrifty. War Bonds help you to save and help to save America. Buy your ten per cent every pay day.

OPINIONS OF THE WEEK

Last week the CAMPUS printed a criticism of the Blue Key. Do you think that criticism was justified?

We definitely are of the opinion that the recent editorial by the CAMPUS was uncalled for and directly antithical to the avowed policies which the editors have so staunchly supported.

The Blue Key has been one of the very few organizations on this campus that has carried out its functions and duties to the fullest extent, year after year. Namely, these duties are to foster and futher spirit and the traditions of the college among the student body, and the Blue Key can easily stand on its record in this respect.

The CAMPUS has continually implored the undergraduate body to support their college to the utmost, and now this same conveyor of public opinion has done a complete about-face and unjustly criticized the sole organization on the hill whose purpose it is to instill this.

Next, we wish to show that the editor of the CAMPUS distorted the facts and based an editorial upon an important issue on rumor and unathorative information which was not checked for its accuracy. In respect to the price of the football programs, Middlebury is forced to charge this by the publishers as the receipts from the sale are divided between the Blue Key and the publishing company in question.

Due to the apalling lack of advertizing, the proceeds of which are also divided at approximately an equal ratio, the company has stated that we must sell these programs at this advanced price if they are to make any profit whatsoever.

In concluding, we wish to state that in view of the above-mentioned facts, we believe that the student body should be favored with a more accurate analysis and presentation of the facts.

Blue Key

The Campus was entirely justified by printing such a criticism. Such criticism has been badly needed for many years, and success has finally come. It is commonly agreed that that noble organization is merely an honorary society for disciplinary ruling over the honorable freshmen. But fraternity politics pushed this point aside to strive more as a profit making organization. Why don't they settle down to the task before them instead of taking a seat on Wall Street? Also where does all this money go? It is one sure thing that the freshmen never see it.

Aldom H. Scott '43

Since the founding of the Blue Key in 1930, this organization has had a definite plac as a strictly honorary society at Middlebury. In the light of the question, I believe that the organization was unjustified by the criticism afforded it in last week's CAMPUS, because in days of such stress, bickering over the merits of a society tends to create disunion when it is needed most, as now; but—

Good years and bad years have come and gone, and the Blue Key through all this time has based its strength and prowess on its personnel. In order to promote this strength, wouldn't it be a wiser plan to have the new members, that are going to be tapped, selected by the Men's Student Body, thus insuring a complete and thorough organization?

It is unfortunate that a group which supposedly represents the Men's College, sometimes draws its representatives from the stronger selective group, namely the sacred brotherhoods—fraternities.

Alan Wolfley '45

Last week the Blue Key was criticised. For the most part, the criticism seemed to take the form of a disgruntled dislike, with only one specific complaint being made.

Tradition plays a major part in a small institution like Middlebury. And the Blue Key is one of Midd's traditions. The hazing of freshmen, which the Blue Key enforces, is also one of our Middlebury customs.

From what I can gather, even the freshmen enjoy the hazing. It would seem difficult for anyone with a sense of humor not to see the amusing side. I look back on my Blue Key hazing as just one of the more interesting and unique things that makes college what it is.

Daniel M. Colyer '45

It is rather difficult to say what prompted the editor to denounce the Blue Key. Perhaps, the editor has let his emotions run wild in the light of war fervor. This seems logical, since many of his plans, which have resulted from an effort to aid in the war emergency, have proven themselves to be foolish and crack-pot schemes. This is especially true of his plan to scrap all fraternity trophies. These trophies are absolutely worthless, as has been proved,—and it is hard to believe that the editor didn't realize this before he publicized his plan. It seems to me that the editor had a little bit too much of summer school where fraternities did not exist. Hence, he is trying to abolish everything about fraternities—the competition between them and the politics which do exist.

Personally, I think this institution would be a pretty dull place without fraternity rivalry and competition. Such competition promotes keenness and intense interest among the participants in fraternity sports.

The criticism of the Blue Key, then, amounts to little more than the babbling of an overzealous and idealistic editor. He thinks the Blue Key wastes too much time. But, the time is not actually wasted. The freshmen undoubtedly get a lot of fun out of the Blue Key's nightly escapades. It gives them a touch of real college life, imbues them with the spirit and traditions of Middlebury College—and most of all it makes freshmen con 's of the fact that they ar hmen.

Lewis G. Ensinger '44

I believe that the criticism of the Blue Key was both untimely and unfair. This organization was established for the purpose of passing down to each incoming class the traditions and spirit of Middlebury College. The Blue Key this year has spent both time and energy in trying to maintain that intangible phase of college life which is so essential. At a time when unity and cooperation are vitally needed within the college, this criticism appears to be a step in the opposite direction.

Union Air Offensive Clicks To Nip Midd In 14-13 Thriller

Enstice To Siegal Passes Score Twice For Dutchmen

ROONEY'S RUNS SPARK ATTACK

Despite two dazzling fourth-period touchdown jaunts by Halfback Tommy Rooney for 23 and 3 yards respectively, a fast-passing Union eleven managed to top the Panthers by a 14-13 score here at Porter field Saturday. The winning Union touchdown was registered in the final two minutes of play as Hal Enstice tossed two successive passes to Roy Siegal, the second of which he took in the end zone for the score. Bartlett then went on to place-kick the point that spelled victory for the Dutchmen.

This same Enstice-to-Siegel combination clicked in the second period to give Union the 7-0 lead which they held until the fourth quarter, when Rooney started the fireworks for Middlebury. The second period found the Dutchmen in Midd territory as a result of a Siegel interception of a Middlebury pass. With Enstice running, and Bartlett passing, Union drove to a first down on the Midd 14. A stiffening Midd line held firm for three straight plays, only to watch Siegel take Enstice's fourth down toss in the end zone. Bartlett skirted the end to make the extra point.

Midd Drives

The Panthers cut short a second Union drive late in the same period when Dan Colyer recovered a Union fumble on the enemy 43. From there Johnnie Urban ploughed through for eleven yards to the 32 stripe. Hawkes made it another first down for the Middmen when he took Sheehan's pass down to the 19. But Hoffman of Union snagged the next Midd pass and ran it back to his own 32 as the half ended.

Middlebury came even closer to scoring midway in the third period when Bobo Sheehan, taking a Union punt on his own 41, put on the prettiest exhibition of broken field running in the whole game. He reversed his field twice, dodging, twisting, and sidestepping his way through practically the whole Union team until he was finally downed on the Union 9. From this point Urban took over, battering through for four plays, to a first down on the 8. Three plays later Sheehan flipped a wide lateral to Hawkes who carried it down to the one yard marker. But a Union line, that knew how to hold firm when it needed it, stopped Urban's next line plunge cold. The Panthers started again from the Union 36, but an alert Union secondary pulled down another Midd pass to check the threat.

Poor punting was a handicap for both teams, and Middlebury was still on the Union side of midfield at the start of the eventful last quarter. Urban opened the show with a nice 20 yard pass to Art Pepin who was downed on the 23. Then they gave the ball to Rooney for the first time during the game, and the fleet back knew what to do with it. On a wide end sweep, he outran all his would be tacklers, barely managed to stay in-bounds, and crossed the wide stripe for Middlebury's first score of the season. Sheehan's perfect dropkick tied the score.

Rooney Scores Again

Wide-awake Dick Buonerba kept the Panthers in the game by snagging two of Enstice's passes which had Middlebury rooters worried all afternoon. He ran the second one back 17 yards to the Middlebury 27 yard line. Then, the second time during the game, they gave the ball to Tom Rooney. And for the second time, Tom Rooney scooted wide around the end, ahead of everybody to score a touchdown for Midd. This time he traveled 73 yards to put the Panthers out ahead.

Fullback Enstice navigated the Union treck downfield, which followed the next kickoff. He passed 25 yards to Platt. Then he ran it 25 more to the Blue and White 23. But when Middlebury smothered four straight pass plays, it looked as though the game was on ice for the Panthers. But Sharpe, Union center, set the stage for the Hollywood finish when he pounced on a Midd fumble giving Union possession on the Midd 25. The story was told in two plays—Enstice to Siegel on the 11; Enstice to Siegel in the end zone. Bartlett place-kicked the winning point.

BILL BOARD By CALKINS

Everybody seemed well satisfied with the way that the football team played last Saturday. They really are beginning to look like a ball club. Statistically they walked all over Union, but pass defense once again proved to be a bugaboo for Midd. The new variation of the "T" derived by Coach Guarnaccia proved valuable, and Tommy Rooney's running was a revelation.

Coast Guard and Norwich both had quite a tussle with Colby, and earlier in the season we might have avoided the issue, but we think that the Panthers are going to give the Mules a good clawing, and maybe they'll come out on top—we hope. A more wide open style of attack, such as now being used, is better adapted to the Middlebury squad than a straight "T" formation.

* * * *

It's really tough when a fellow plays three years of good, hard, clean football, is rewarded in his senior year by the co-captaincy, plays one game and then can't play anymore. Bob Adsit is that fellow, due to an injured nerve in his shoulder which might, if hit again result in permanent paralysis of his shoulder and arm. Bob started training for football seriously in mid-July—running up to four miles a day and exercising a lot. When football camp opened, it was Bob who led the squad through the calisthenics drill, his pep and spirit, as much as his ability, made him a good leader. Bob played three years of losing football, yet never once has there been a game that he didn't think that we had a good chance of coming out on top, and didn't go out and fight his head off to win.

Although he only played three games of varsity football, Walt Swift proved himself to be a valuable addition to the squad. Walt was the leading ground gainer aganst both Williams and Tufts, and was noted for his tackling ability. He will be missed both on the football field and on the campus, as he has left school for induction into the army. All that we can do now is wish him all of the luck in the world.

Green Mountain Tops Midd JV's

Score In Last Period On Recovered Fumble To Win 7-0

A spirited but inexperienced Jayvee football squad traveled to Poultney, Vt. last Saturday to tackle a heavier Green Mountain junior college team. For three quarters the game was a scoreless deadlock, but late in the final period the home team recovered a Panther fumble on the five yard line, and four plays later had the only score of the game, and a 7 to 0 win.

Midd received the opening kickoff and promptly started to drive. Hitch Hitchner gained five yards off right tackle, and Ross Brown picked up five more around end. Two more Hitchner runs gave the Blue and White another first down. Then the attack stalled, but left the ball deep in Green Mountain territory. It was not until the middle of the second period that the Green Mountain boys got beyond the 50 yard stripe.

Seven Man Line

The JV's used the "T" formation quite effectively until GMJC switched to a seven man line which successfully bottled up the Middlebury attack. The hosts clicked several times on pass plays, but found the lighter, better conditioned Midd line too tough to crack. Dutch Depodwin, game captain, "Chunky Jr." Gale, and Ed Huizer played excellent defensive games. Coach Hoffmann substituted freely and the squad showed promise, although first game nervousness and inexperience were quite obvious.

In the backfield, the running of Hitchner and Brown, the signal calling of Joe Sackett, and the defensive play of Ted Kolzak stood out.

Green Mt. Touchdown

Bob Crotty scored the Green Mountain touchdown from the 1 yard stripe, and Norm Pupillo placekicked the extra point.

With two weeks to practice before the next game with Williams Jayvees, many of the weaknesses revealed Saturday can be ironed out. Intensive scrimmaging and a lot more work on assignments are scheduled by Coach Hoffmann for the rest of the week.

The starting line-up was; McGuire and Huizer ends, Depodwin and Huxley tackles, Gale and Littlefield guards, Coddard center, Sackett quarterback, Hitchner and Kolzak halbacks, and R. Brown fullback. Replacements were; Mace and Hennig ends, Booth, Hebert, and Hyde tackles, Fuchs, Coursey and Fulton guards, Greenwood at center, Calkins and Kilgallen quarterback, Dunham, Hendrix, and Cocola halfbacks, and Frank at fullback.

THE INTRAMURAL TROPHY RACE

By Lynn Sackett

Wednesday: Scoring on the first play of the game on a double pass from Cranker to Marshall to Plumb, ASP got the jump on DU in touch football and went on to win 12 to 6. The winning touchdown was put over in the second quarter on another pass from Cranker to Marshall.

Chi Psi defeated the Neutrals in tennis 2-0, while DKE beat KDR in golf 2 to 1.

Thursday. The largest score of the season was rolled up by SPE when they smothered SA 52-0 in touch football. They scored practically at will, using the old sleeper play several times effectively.

The DU-SA tennis match and the DU-SPE golf match were both postponed.

Friday. The DU's took the measure of the Theta Chi's in football, scoring two touchdowns and a safety to win 15-6. All of the scoring was done in the first half. Caldroney and Richardson made the touchdowns for the winners.

ASP beat KDR in tennis 2 to 1, and Theta Chi stopped Sigma Alpha in golf 3-0.

Monday. Two touchdowns by Ferd Ensinger, one by Ray Walsh, and one on an interception by Bud Nims, gave KDR a easy 25 to 0 win over SA in touch football.

The Deke-SA tennis match, and the DU-ASP golf were postponed.

Tuesday. The Sig Eps, paced by Mike Kolligian, scored a decisive 20 to 0 win over the Alpha Sigs in touch football. Early in the first period they scored on an end run by Kolligian, and a few plays later, he intercepted a pass to score again. On the last play of the game, Herb Taylor scooped up an Alpha Sig fumble to score.

The Sig Ep football team has shown itself to be a major contender for the trophy in this sport. They and the Dekes are the only undefeated teams in the league, and will meet next week in what will probably be the game that decides the championship.

The golf league is led by Chi Psi with four wins and no losses. Sig Ep is also undefeated, but has played only two matches. Now that varsity golf players are ineligible for intramural competition, the Chi Psi, DU and Deke teams are considerably weakened, loseing Wolfley, Fox and Scott respectively.

The Dekes are the only unbeaten tennis team, but as yet haven't met the strongest teams in the league.

Panthers To Meet Colby Saturday

Midd Harriers Stop Williams

Davis In Second Place, Panthers Score First Win

Last Friday afternoon saw the Panther harriers score their first victory of the season. Romping over a 3.7 mile course at Williamstown, Coach Brown's squad chalked up a decisive win 24-31.

Dave Brown, Williams Captain crossed the finish line in first place, followed by Midd co-captain Paul Davis whose time was 21:50.6, just eleven seconds behind Brown. Following Goodbody of Williams, who took third place, came Parker, Haines, Stebbins, and Dick Kinsey in that order. With Gilbert finishing in tenth palce, the Panthers were easily able to outweigh their oponent's first and third place.

After their first and third place, the Williams men did not seem to have anybody who could keep up with the Panthers, for the rest of their men were evenly distributed far behind the Blue and White harriers. Dick Setter, who evidently had not completely recovered from a recent illness, was forced to drop out of the race.

Next Saturday the squad will again hit the road, this time to run against Union. This will prove to be a tough meet as the Union harriers have already defeated U.V.M. The squad to go is as yet undecided and will depend on the time trials that are to be held this week.

LINKSMEN LOSE TO DARTMOUTH BY 8 TO 1 COUNT

Last Saturday the college golf team suffered a defeat at the hands of the Dartmouth golfers by the score of 8 to 1. Originally planned as a quadrangular match, it finally resulted in a dual match when the teams from Williams and Colgate failed to appear.

Both Sandy Young and Ray Fox lost their respective matches by the score of three to two. Bill Engesser lost his match 4 to 3, and Chuck Scott was defeated to the tune of 8 to 7. Al Wolfley gained a half point for Midd by tying his opponent, and he and Don Bates won best ball for another ½ point. Don Bates lost his individual match 4 to 3.

If the Williams team had shown up, the Panthers would have had a chance to redeem themselves, as they were beaten by Williams 9 to 0, earlier in the season. Coach Les Frasier concedes, however, that the team played good golf in last Saturday's match, although they were outclassed.

Swift Leaves For Army Adsit Out Of Action For Season

Still seeking its first win, a revitalized Panther eleven will start early Friday morning for Waterville, Maine, where they meet Colby college on Saturday. With last week's game as evidence, it is sure that this game will be a real battle.

The squad has renewed its original spirit and will be even stronger than last week with Art Pepin, Skip Harris, and "Chunky" Gale back in the running. No serious injuries resulted in last week's game so that a week of hard contact work and scrimmages can be planned. The experience gained from last Saturday has given the backfield some definite assignments to work on, while the line can still stand more deception and speed.

Some Changes Made

The actual list of men leaving on Friday has not been issued, but it is expected that the same setup will be followed as in the previous trips. A few changes have been made in positions, with Al Boissevain switching to a guard position and "Lightning" Buonerba working in at quarterback.

Aside from the contact work, this week's practice includes the ironing out of several plays to fit the new backfield setup, all of which should prove valuable against the Maine Staters.

Bad news always comes in streaks—so Midd has lost two of its regulars for the rest of the season. Co-captain Bob Adsit did not play Saturday and cannot play any more football this season. He injured a nerve in his shoulder which, if hit again, might result in permanent paralysis of his arm and shoulder. As if the loss of the regular guard isn't enough, Walt Swift, sophomore halfback and reliable ball carrier left Monday for induction into the army. Walt was rapidly developing into one of the Blue and White's best ground gainers.

Colby has won one game and lost two this year, beating Lowell Textile 58 to 0, and losing to Norwich 14 to 0, and Coast Guard 14 to 12.

Miscellaneous Sports News

The Panther netmen will face UVM for the second time this fall on Saturday at Middlebury. Playing without Lew Haines and Charlie Baird, the Middmen are still favored to repeat their 6-3 win of several weeks ago. The fall record stands at 2 victories and 1 defeat.

Individual Intramurals

The individual intramural tournaments are nearing completion. Will Bangs will meet the winner of the Ray Walsh-Art Pepin match in the horeshoes final. In tennis, Charlie Proctor, Tom Macdonald, Lew Haines, and Phil Dunham are in the semi-finals. Individual golf is in the quarter-final stage except for Carl Lindner who has reached the round of four.

The intramural competition has reached the half-way mark with not one golf match or football game having been postponed because of guess what. One day the tennis courts were a little too damp to be played on, but otherwise, the Intramural program is running smoothly.

Commando Course

An innovation at Middlebury will be a ranger or commando course smilar to those being installed in colleges in many parts of the country. Coach Brown is consulting plans of the lay-out at Williams and Cornell and definite action is expected sometime this fall.

The course will probably be between a quarter and a half a mile long, with the familiar abstacles—overhand ladder climbing, hurdles, a ten foot wall to climb, vaulting and similar tests of co-ordination and endurance.

Dr. R. S. Clements, Bryn Mawr Pastor, To Speak At Chapel

Rex Stowers Clements, Ph.D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, will speak at vespers this Sunday, October 18, in Mead memorial chapel.

Dr. Clements has been very active in the movement to unite the denominations. As an example of the greater scope of work possible under this plan, his church and the Congregational church of Bryn Mawr have become one congregation.

In his address here last year, Dr. Clements stressed the admirable human qualities of Christ. This will be the fifth time that he has spoken at Middlebury.

Alumni Council Confers At Inn

Discuss Role Of Alumni In Relation To College For War Emergency

Eighteen members and special representatives attended the meeting of the Alumni Council Saturday morning, October 10th in the lounge of the Middlebury Inn, with a luncheon in the private dining room following the meeting, and the members attended the Union-Middlebury football game as guests of the College Athletic Council.

William F. Pollard, '13, National President of the Associated Alumni and Principal of the Needham, Mass., high school, presided at the meeting. Dr. Stephen A. Freeman, Acting President of the College, discussed with the Council the plans of the administration and wartime adjustments of the College in relation to the general theme of the Council meeting, which was "What Middlebury Alumni Can Do for the College in Wartime." Richard C. Hubbard, '36, chairman of the committee on filling vacancies in the Council, reported as to the numerous new appointments that had been made to fill vacancies caused by men entering military service.

William M. Meacham, '21, chairman of the committee on the Alumni Fund, reported on the outcome of the 1941 Fund and the alumni scholarship awarded by John D. Hunt, '46, of Oneonta, New York, and the plans for increasing the alumni scholarship funds for 1943 through the cooperation of the class secretaries in a systematic follow-up of members of their classes. Professor Reginald L. Cook, '24, chairman of the War Service Committee, reported on the work which has been under way in connection with keeping in contact with the nearly 500 men who have already entered the Service.

Plans were laid for intensifying the activities of Middlebury alumni in secondary education work in the direction of acquainting prospective students with the opportunities at Middlebury under present conditions and in arrangeing to cooperate with the school and college relations work carried on by the admissions office through Mr. Randall W. Hoffmann, '37, Assistant Director of Admissions.

Advance copies of the alumni magazine, The Middlebury College NEWS LETTER, were distributed at the meeting.

W. A. A.

Featuring exhibition matches in hockey, soccer, tennis, and archery, W.A.A. conducted its annual Sports Day yesterday on the women's athletic field beginning at 4:30 p. m.

Hockey and soccer games were played on the main athletic field by teams chosen from among the best players of every class participating in the sports for credit toward a W. A. A. award. Charlotte H. Johnson 43 was in charge of arranging hockey and S. Carol Hartman '43 managed the soccer event.

At the same time quarter finals matches in the regular W. A. A. singles tennis tournament were being played in the women's courts in front of Pearson's Hall. Nancy A. Read '43 was in charge of arrangements. Archery under Mary Jane Landes '43 was being played on the new athletic field.

The simultaneous play provided the variety of a three-ring circus for a crowd of about three hundred members of the faculty and students.

At the completion of the sports events at about 6:00 p. m. an outdoor buffet supper under the direction of M. Shirley West '44, was served. Campfires built just to theleft of the main field and the singing of old favorite songs brought the day to a close at about 8:00 p. m., for sportswomen and their audience.

Whole games were not played in hockey or soccer due to lack of time. Sophomores won in hockey with a total of three goals, none of the other teams scoring during four periods of play. In soccer a W.A.A. team deafeated freshmen, 6-0, Dolly E. Greene '45 and Elizabeth N. Thompson '44 won their respective sets in tennis. Jane Burrit '46 was high scorer in archery.

W.S.D.C. TO MAKE BANDAGES SOON

Preparation of surgical dressings for use by the armed forces will be the first project of the War Service Defense council.

Women who have indicated interest either through the WSDC or Forum will be given an opportunity to sign up for definite working hours with Elisabeth Von Thurn '43, president of Women's Forum, sometime this week. The work is to be done in the basement of the public library downtown under the supervision of two trained instructors from Burlington. The bandaging project is being worked out in cooperation with the townspeople headed by Mrs. Jordan R. Scobie and Mrs. Waldo H. Heinrichs of Middlebury and will start next Wednesday.

Other projects under the consideration of the council are those of blood donation, farm labor, sewing, knitting, and airplane spotting all to be carried out in cooperation with town efforts.

A great deal of material on the vocational and service opportunities for women in the present war has been collected and will be on file in Forest Hall east with Miss Marion Wolcott, head of the War Service Defense council. Vocations covered include nursing, radio work, government jobs in science, civil service, with the army WAAC's and navy WAVES.
